TOPIC

On its 100th anniversary, one library hit the restart button with a fearless but thoughtful leap into the future that took nothing for granted. We will share the importance of a bold, shared vision; how that vision enabled the team to step away from standards – not only nibbling at the edges, but reimagining the library from the ground up; and how that spirit allowed the library to change.

At the end of this session, participants will:

1

Consider, compare, evaluate, and select highest priority public service goals to provide relevant service and guide a transformation project.

2

Manipulate the lighting, volume, finishes, and furniture to define an invigorating yet comfortable, people centered aesthetic that embodies the vitality of your services.

3

Work with staff, board, and design team to facilitate structured but flexible planning process that shapes spaces, services and staff roles to emerging service patterns.
